I have just had a redundancy payment and am going to treat myself to a cheap used BMW . I have never had the opportunity to own a prestige car but have got to thinking you only live once so thought I should. It is mainly only me in the car but I do like to have 4 doors in case I do take out any passengers. Safety is also a big concern and I know BMW are renowned for an excellent NCAP safety rating. Big motoring World have a used BMW 3 series advertised with automatic transmission at a really good price so I am going to test drive it tomorrow.
